++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunshine and scattered showers.

Today:
Feeling cooler to start the day, especially in northern Cornwall. Otherwise sunny spells, with scattered showers developing throughout the day. Cloud with patchy rain is expected in the far southwest of the region. Feeling pleasant in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers fade throughout the evening leaving clear spells. A few mist or fog patches will develop overnight. Feeling locally very cool in areas with less cloud. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Wednesday:
Sunny spells for most but some isolated heavy showers are expected from the afternoon. Patchy cloud throughout the day. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
An unsettled few days, with Thursday bringing a more persistent band of showery rain, possibly thundery and with hail eastwards. Friday expects sunshine and showers. Saturday starting dry, however breezy.
